MID-TOWN BOOT BOYS

Director, Tom Metzger, John Clary, Heartland WAR Director, John Metzger, President of the Aryan Youth Movement and Brad Robarge, California Youth Movement organizer.

The forceful speakers dwelt on the plight of White workers across the country. They also, in no uncertain terms, attacked treasonous corporations, politicians, and non-Whites who are impacting White workers' survival. Third Position politics were the order of the day. Old line conservative right-wing failures were discussed at

Joe Grego - leader, Oklahoma Knights

The legendary Cookson Hills of Oklahoma once more recently reverberated with the sounds of anti-system music and speeches.

In the hills where the spirit of Jesse James, the Daltons, Quantrill's raiders, John Dillinger, Pretty Boy Floyd, and Bonnie and Clyde must still wander, Third Position fighters gathered.

The Aryan festival was hosted by Joe Grego of the Oklahoma Knights and John Clary, Heartland WAR Director. Over 100 representatives of WAR, Klan, N.S., and Skinheads came together for important discussions with plenty of good Oklahoma catfish and plain fun. Speakers included WAR length.

The sacrifice of Order leader, Robert Mathews, and many others who now are imprisoned across the land, were given high praise and tribute.

Music was provided by a hot new Skin band, the Tulsa Mid-town Boot Boys. These boys are one of the hottest White Power bands this side of Skrewdriver.

Only minimum police patrols were seen in the area, making life even more pleasant.

Grego will now continue such regional meetings in the future. Many other regional meetings are being planned around the country.

IS IT WORTH GOING TO JAIL FOR?

The other day I went to get my mail at the post office, and in discussing the events of the day, I was told by a female postal worker that she was livid, she was angry, she was mad and besides that she was upset. Inquiring why, she said that her son was almost killed by Mexican wetbacks yesterday. I asked what happened and she explained to me that he was walking down the road, minding his own business, and was jumped by these wetbacks and, of course, living in Southern California this is not unusual. Vast numbers of unemployed little brown people run along the highways, ride bicycles along the highways, thumb rides along the highways, steal cars along the highways, etc. I asked if he was hurt badly. She responded that he had to get some stitches. She added that the sheriff came out and he treated it lightly, almost like the White boy was picking on the Mexicans. So they tried to track down the Mexicans that did it, but no one ever knows where they work, where they live or anything about them. This is why there are so many unsolved homicides in California. They kill someone and simply move on. She said her husband was so angry, he was going to...

But she asked him, "Honey, is it worth going to jail?" At that point I got into a little discourse with the lady, saying, "When is it worth going to jail?" This seems to be an out now of all the middle class. With things becoming more and more unbearable because of the third world invasion and homespun minority crime, it isn't worth going to jail. And I said to the lady, "When is it worth going to jail? When the house is burned down? When you are raped? When you are hurt badly or killed while you are lying in your own bed? At what time is it worth going to jail? This phrase, Is it worth going to jail, seems to be a cover-up for people saying it is not worth doing anything."

The phrase used to be it is not worth the hassle. I said to the women, for all to hear in the post office, "Is there anything worth going to jail for? If they had killed your son, would it be worth going to jail to get justice?" This is the cop-out we hear everyday when it comes to crimes of violence, reverse discrimination and everything else. It's too much of a hassle. I don't want to get in trouble. It's not worth going to jail for. The many heros that built this country would not have gotten far with that motto. Would you really trust a father if you were the son or daughter and he wouldn't want to go to jail to protect you? As a wife, would you respect a husband that would not be willing to go to jail or deal with hassles for you. People like that are very untrustworthy. It has been said many times, the people deserve whatever they permit.

MASS PSYCHOLOGY

There have been statements by at least one White leader in the country that Tom Metzger does not understand mass psychology. The truth is I understand mass psychology perfectly, because mass psychology is simply the herd instinct as Gustave Le Bon, the great human nature researcher called it, "The crowd psychology". Many of the right-wing racial conservative types still cling to the old, failed idea, of immediately moving towards a mass movement. They do this before they develop the foundation of their ideology. They do this before they develop their cadre and their inter-core. They simply run up the flag and start asking everyone in the country to salute it. And why do people not salute it? It is simple. People respect power above all things. Fortunately, or unfortunately this is true. No matter how right your argument is, if you are perceived to have no power to enforce that right or ideology, then people tend not to listen to you. So for small groups and leaders of unclear ideologies and also leaders without even a political platform or program to set out to woo the masses is a joke. Lenin said, "Revolution is a spectator sport." And this is true. George Lincoln Rockwell also said it; the crowd is like the female maiden, the lady in waiting, standing by to see who wins the joust. So, contrary to what one of my critics said, I understand mass psychology far better than most right-wingers I have ever run into.

Every movement needs three things or at least three things. One of these is power in some form. They need heros and, unfortunately, martyrs. The Order, taken from the name Bruder Schweigen was led by Robert Jay Mathews. Robert Jay Mathews paid the ultimate price for what he believed in and what tens of thousands of other White Americans believe in. Also many men that fought along side of Robert Mathews have paid, in some ways, even a worse price, to spend many years of their lives in ZOGs dungeons. Unfortunately I perceive a counter-revolutionary strata within the broad racist movement. This counter-revolutionary strata comes from the old conservative wing and is deathly afraid of being identified with Robert Jay Mathews or any one who rode with Mathews. I have watched with interest the fact that many leaders are beginning to phase out the name of Robert Jay Mathews. I have watched with interest the fact that there has not been a major move to eulogize Robert Jay Mathews either on Whidbey Island where he was murdered or at his ranch in Wash-

WHITE WORKERS TAKE MAY DAY BACK

Not since the days of Denis Kearney and Jack London have revolutionary White Working People marched the streets of San Francisco demanding White self-determination.

On May 1, 1988, Third Positionist, Bob Heich and his American Front made a courageous march down the heart of the pervert capitol without a peep from "the boys in pink".

Bob Heich and his group are determined to liberate May Day from the Marxist scum. Let's help Bob and the American Front make next year's May Day March even bigger.

WAR takes its hat off to all the young people who helped make the march a success.

Good Morning:

I am taking great pleasure in the artistic format and revelatory prose of "Bloody Railroad Wars", the design of which is sure to delineate the violent undertow marking the birth of the California Republic.

Next to my trailer park space an impoverished laboring man is selling off a passel of work clothes and masculine items. He is long on energy and short on insight, but a game worker promoting his material. This guy is one of Jack London's "...men with the bark on."

"Yeah, this stuff came from a Sacramento Chemical outfit I worked for. That is why I got these boots, rain gear and gas mask. The company made us buy all this Taiwanese crap at high prices before drawing a paycheck. They deducted the cost from the paycheck without even telling us. Listen, I'm a White person and I began working in this chemical factory in Sacramento, and I'll tell you, English was no help. There were two classes working: Mexicans and Vietnamese. If you couldn't speak one language or the other you were out of luck. Basically, as an English speaking guy, I was really out of luck!"

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "What you are is enough!"

H.F.F.

Dear Tom,
I am a 41 year old White male Marine Engineer who wonders where the jobs are. I grew up and started working in the tuna fishing business here in San Diego. During the '60s and '70s I began to witness its demise. I grew up with the idea that you were to do what you were told, follow orders, and you would naturally be successful doing this, and you would make money and everything would be fine. Then I saw that the Portuguese and Italian operators were unwilling and unable to fight the ZOG government, which was unwilling to protect us from foreign seizure, Porpoise lovers, and artificially low prices for tuna. The tuna boat owners saw the benefits of the "Jew system". They fired or did not hire us White engineers, and instead, hired Panamanians and Puerto Ricans. Reagan said he would not let the "foreigners" steal the business. They didn't have to. The Jew boys who owned the canneries moved them out of the city, and the rest is history. I tried to go to work in the oil field. It does not benefit the Jew to drill for oil offshore California, so we don't do that. I got a long distance call the other day from a Major Eastern Seaboard Shipper. The Nigger equal opportunity employee personnel agent on the other end of the line had to put me on hold for about five minutes so he could go and find somebody who knew the horsepower of the ship that I was being considered for employment on. While I was waiting for "Schwartz" to come back on the line, I wondered how quickly I'd be fired if I tied up their Watts line for that long?

Caveat Emptor

In a system characterized by the systematic robbery of the majority working class by the minority capitalist class additional cheating and unethical practices are par for the course. Shady operations are so widespread that Better Business Bureaus do a thriving business lending a fig leaf of integrity to their members.

California business owners, however, complain that they've been ripped off by local BBBs.

In an effort to sell more memberships, the local BBBs issued directories of members that included paid ads and consumer tips. But let the buyer beware!

According to an article in The Wall Street Journal, business owners were told that the directories would be more widely advertised, promoted and circulated than they were; were often falsely promised exclusive listings as the only business of their type in the directory; and were told, contrary to a 1983 national BBB policy, that they had to be members in order to buy ads.

racist from the militant revolutionary White racist. We must at least once a year have a meeting at the home of Robert Jay Mathews and at the site where his ashes lie. We must keep this torch burning and before the eyes of the movement. We don't particularly care what the average person in the public thinks of Robert Jay Mathews, any more than what the average person around the country thought of Jesse James and why he rode and why he did what he did. His greatness came after his death and the greatness of Bob Mathews is coming after his death. But it will not come if we allow cowardly, conservatively-oriented professional patriots to allow his name to sink into oblivion. Hail Bob Mathews! Hail

Right now the Skinheads in Germany are very strong and united. They are extremely White Power and they don't tolerate anything from anyone. They basically have the same problem that we do with immigrants. The German government allows Turkish people to come into the country and live off the government. They are given jobs and homes while there are homeless Germans and jobless as well. Their problem is the same as ours and Englands. The German Skins are very active in politics. Just about every weekend in the summer there is a Skinhead meeting or a Nationalist Rally where all the National-

I'D PUNCH HIM IN THE MOUTH IF IT WASN'T AGAINST THE LAW!

How Corporate Executives Make Their Millions

The recent reports on so-called "executive compensation" for 1987 clearly touched a raw nerve for U.S. workers and capitalists alike, though for different reasons.

Despite the fact that most U.S. workers still accept the capitalist system at present, gut instincts tell most workers that there is something seriously wrong when Jim Manzi, chairman of Lotus Development Corp., raked in $26.3 million last year, Lee Iacocca, chairman of Chrysler, got $17.9 million; and top corporate executives in general averaged $1.8 million — while the average gross wage for workers was about $16,000.

Playing up to such instincts, probably to raise itself in workers' esteem, the United Auto Workers publicly expressed some of the indignation that workers feel. At a time when the Chrysler Corp. has been laying off workers, closing plants and pushing for more concessions, the UAW denounced Iacocca's take in particular. Asserting that Iacocca's income was 615 times greater than that of a blue-collar auto worker, one UAW official called it "near criminal."

Capitalist Defense

Capitalists and their apologists in the media rushed to the defense of the executives' princely pay on talk shows and in newspaper columns and editorials. After all, such dangerous talk might lead some workers to go further and question the validity of the system!

A typical example of the propaganda issued in defense of executive pay was an editorial in the April 24 San Jose Mercury News. The article criticized the UAW's comparison of Iacocca's pay with workers' wages, contending that "while the line worker was paid only for work he [sic] performed last year, not so the executive."

"Only $1.73 million of Iacocca's 1987 take was in the form of salary and cash bonuses. The rest came from stock and stock options given him years earlier, when there was a real question whether Chrysler would even be around in 1988."

The editorial then contended that Iacocca "succeeded in boosting the value of Chrysler and its stock." And it concluded that, "it's silly for the UAW to begrudge Iacocca his bounty. Without him, the thousands of autoworkers employed by Chrysler might not have jobs today."

The editorial's argument rests on an entirely false assumption about how wealth and profits are created and how Chrysler "succeeded" — wrongly giving Iacocca credit for same.

Labor and only labor can create exchange value (i.e. the value contained in a commodity in relation to other commodities; its value in social exchange). Though the capitalists supply the raw materials, facilities and tools used to produce commodities, that capital is itself a product of labor.

Robbing Workers

A capitalist firm "succeeds," or operates profitably, through the exploitation of the working class — that is, by paying workers a wage worth less than the value of the commodities they create. In other words, capitalist profits and wealth are obtained by the capitalist class robbing the working class at the point of production.

Chrysler nearly went bankrupt in 1979 mainly because it wasn't exploiting workers at a high enough rate; it "succeeded" when it stepped up the rate of exploitation, mainly by extorting over $1.6 billion in concessions from its workers in the next two years — over $10,000 per worker.

The only role Iacocca played in helping Chrysler "succeed" was in his winning the concessions from workers, by, as he himself put it, holding the shotgun to their heads and threatening bankruptcy if they didn't relent. And for that he's been lauded as a "genius!"

In any case, the $16.2 million that Iacocca received from stock and stock options in 1987 had nothing to do with his "work" whatsoever. That is simply his share, as a capitalist, from the ongoing robbery of Chrysler workers. He no more had to work for that than any other stockholder has to work to receive a dividend.

As for the salary and bonuses of "only" $1.73 million for which Iacocca supposedly did "work," the editorial fails to consider the nature of said "work" — which mainly consists of determining which investment and production strategies will exploit workers with the greatest efficiency, yielding the greatest rate of profit. Daniel De Leon rightly compared that sort of "work" to "the intense mental strain and activity of the 'work' done by the pickpocket."

An understanding of exploitation also makes clear why the UAW is just as wrong as the Mercury News, when it criticizes the "gross disparities" between executives' and workers' pay. The problem is not that Iacocca and his ilk make too much money; the problem is that all profits and all executive salaries paid to all exploiters of labor are undeserved, and workers suffer undeserved immense hardships as a consequence of exploitation.

Pamyat hate group in USSR threatens Jews

Moscow (Special) — Pamyat, remember that name. It's a violent anti-Semitic organization that recently surfaced in the Soviet Union.

Pamyat is believed to be behind the desecration of graves in the Jewish cemetery here.

The group is said to be responsible for a series of incidents that has sent fear through members of the Jewish community.

Children are being called a wide range of filthy names such as "dirty Yids" and "stinking Hebes."

In one instance, a crowd of youths chanted threats outside the home of a Jewish doctor. "Soon we will be coming to kill you," they shouted.

Pamyat is believed responsible for leaflets such as one containing the following:

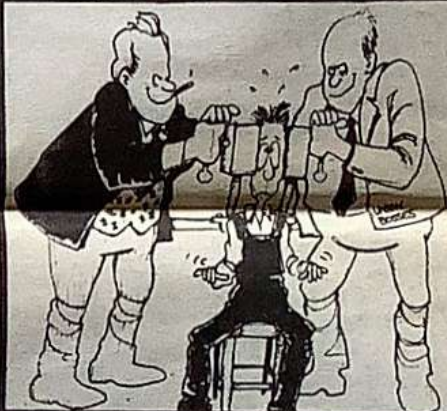

"Comrades! Russian patriots! How long can we put up with the dirty Jews brazenly penetrating our entire society, especially in the best places?"

"How can we accept that the dirty ones have made our wonderful nation into a Jewish mob of sorts?"

"Why should we — outstanding, intelligent, beautiful Slavs — consider Jews among us to be a normal phenomenon? And why should Jewish cattle be able to acquire Russian surnames and put down Russian as their nationality as do these dirty, stinking Jews, hiding under such heroic and proud names as Russians?"

Members of the Jewish community are fearful that new waves of anti-Semitism may have come to the Soviet Union.

WAR has a back log of long, excellent, unfinanced articles. We have too many long articles and not enough money to put the paper out as often as we would like.

To build a mass movement, you must have an enlightened core of well trained cadre, and to train your cadre, you must have a strong party organ.

So it is important that we build the WAR newspaper. There's not enough money to put out WAR as often as we must.

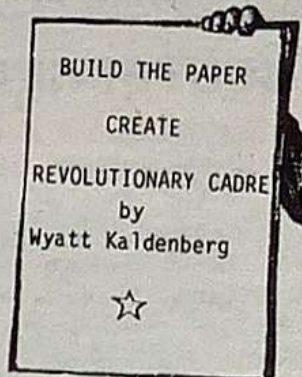

So, here are two ways we can build the WAR newspaper:

1. Since the copy box is crammed full of articles, and many people get upset because not every single piece of their article gets into the paper, we need a system that separates the true revolutionary writers from the ivory tower intellectuals.

John Jewell is one of the most revolutionary writers I know. I think he is the yardstick by which we should measure a WAR writer. John Jewell has paid for the printing of every article of his which WAR has ever published. No one ever asked him to do this, he just did it. I think Jewell has set a good example which we all must follow.

Anyone who writes an article which is over 500 words or has more than two articles which appear in WAR within a twelve month period is a WAR staff writer. All staff writers must support the paper by paying for the printing cost of their work. It costs about $57 per page to print an issue of WAR. So, if you are willing to pay for your articles, you'll have a good chance of having your articles published. If you feel that helping build the paper is too radical for you, then your articles can sit in the copy box with the rest of the unfinanced articles. Of course, WAR will have the right to reject any piece which it sees fit. Writers can build credit for future articles if they send payment with an article that gets rejected.

This is nothing new. The English "National Front News" is funded this way.

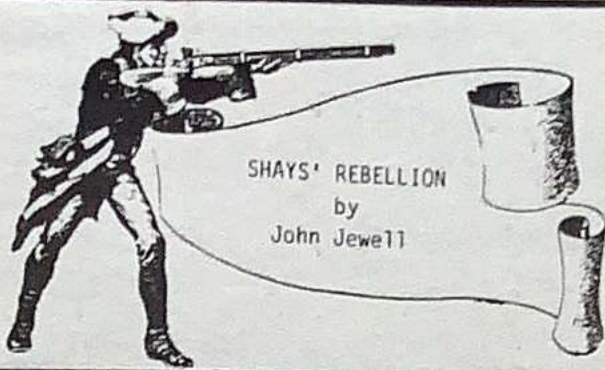

2. We must create a WAR Newspaper Sponsorship Club. This also is not a new idea. "In These Times", a newspaper the Reds publish, was created by this kike named Weinstein, who figured it would cost him $300,000, in 1976, to put out a weekly newspaper with a paid staff. The kike rented a mailing list of current Left wing activists and asked them to sponsor this non-existent paper by giving $1,000 each. Weinstein only needed 300 Reds to give a $1,000 each to create his paper. Over 300 Marxists gave Weinstein a $1,000 and countless others gave him less. The Jews are extremely devoted to the survival and advancement of their race, and we expect Aryans to be as devoted to our race as the Jews are to theirs. Therefore, to become a sponsor it's only $57 a year, the price of publishing one page. To prove to you that we aren't taking your money and blowing it on Swanson TV dinners, when you sponsor a page we'll put your name on it or a special code number, if you prefer.

If enough people go for this, we can create a mighty newspaper which may build a strong mass movement.

And with you Skinheads, WAR is the only Race newspaper in America that supports Skins. Most reactionary groups think the Skins are just too darn radical. We like radicals. Others think you Skins aren't for real and are just a put-on like the Nazi punks were and you are just a fad that will disappear once you get tired of playing Nazi. WAR supports the Skinhead movement 100%, but support must be a two-way street.

Most Skins are teenagers and don't have full time jobs. So this is what you can do to help the WAR paper grow: join the sponsorship club as a collective. I know Skin groups that have 20 or 30 members. If

With the end of the American Revolution in 1783, the new republic stood on the verge of economic collapse. Many cities, towns, and rural areas had been razed to the ground by enemy marauders: British regulars and irregulars, Hessian mercenaries, Canadian volunteers, local Tory "cowboy plunderers", Negro "Ethiopian" units, and Indian "savages". 100,000 Tory-Loyalist "refugees" were expelled to Canada, Britain, or the West Indies. Seventy thousand were dead, leaving countless impoverished widows and orphans. Farm families had mortgaged their lands and possessions, and fell arrears on taxes and loans. With the coming of "peace", foreclosures and evictions began. Goods requisitioned by Congress and the Army had been paid for in government bonds, but these remained unredeemable and most families had to sell them off to sordid speculators at a fraction of their face value, in order to feed hungry children.

American soldiers demobilized without their promised back-pay, which for many had been frozen since 1777. Some were given a few worthless "Continental" (the value had dropped to ten cents on the dollar). Many soldiers had to beg their way home, including invalids and cripples. In June 1783, eighty militiamen at Lancaster, Pennsylvania deserted their posts and rioted outside Congress in Philadelphia, demanding their pay. Local militia were called out, but joined the riot. Congress fled the city until they dispersed, then passed an act ordering the building of a new capital with special police powers.

National and state debts totaled seventy million dollars; interest on public loans piled up, national credit abroad was non-existent, foreign trade had nearly collapsed; state governments refused requisitions from "King Congress" and erected tariff barriers on neighboring states, with state militias fighting border skirmishes at customs houses. A final result was a Depression, in 1785-86. Crops rotted on the ground. Jobs were scarce or non-existent. Hard money was impossible to come by for common people, who had to resort to barter to survive. Taxes and mortgages could not be paid, due to lack of currency. Public land was being sold off by Congress at $64 an acre, but at a minimum purchase of ten acres. $640 was an impossible sum for small farmers and working people, and the land was snapped up by speculators.

White "bond slavery" continued in some states, and nine states refused the vote to White males lacking property qualifications. Town artisans, who instigated the Revolution and were among its staunchest supporters, were unable to vote. They demanded their "inalienable rights" and denounced a system which placed White tradesmen and workers on par with a "Jew or a Turk". Conservatives, denouncing the "Mobocracy" and fearful of the kind of "levelism" which erupted in the English Civil War of the 1640s, argued that the "Tradesmen" must be "checked. They take too much upon them. They ought not to intermeddle in State affairs. They ought to be kept low. They will become too powerful." Reactionaries also lamented that ownership of land in the West allowed the vote to every "biped of the forest".

Poor White farmers were driven pillar to post by taxes, bank foreclosures on overdue mortgages, tax delinquency seizures for auctions, and evictions. The most ruthless oppressors were the rich of Boston, who controlled the Massachusetts government via vote restrictions. While the rich made fortunes on reselling costly goods imported from Britain, the poor White farmers were expected to pay off the entire State debt incurred in the war. Farms were taxed one-third of their yearly appraised worth, despite virtually no farm income in ready cash.

Debtor groups demanded a moratorium on debts, the right to pay in cattle, lumber or grain, and for the issue of new paper money to revitalize the economy. The Rhode Island legislature was captured by populists and issued new money borrowable on property security for 14 years; acceptance was made mandatory and creditors who fled rather than accept the new currency had debts cancelled, the courts holding the funds. Rhode Island's economy collapsed under a boycott by Massachusetts and Connecticut, and opposition from the R.I. Supreme Court.

Riots and disturbances erupted through-out New England. At Exeter, New Hampshire, several hundred men armed with muskets, swords, and staves invaded the town while a General Court was in session, to demand an end to foreclosures, new money issue, and for tax relief. (Two-thirds of the N.H. population would have been in debtor prison if laws had been fully enforced. In Vermont, one-half the population was bankrupt, and most of the rest impoverished). In Rutland, Vermont the courthouse was surrounded by hundreds of armed men "in the saddle", led by Thomas Lee, a partisan Colonel in the Revolution. Several clashes with State troops occurred before the rebels were dispersed.

Bloody armed rebellion then flared in western Massachusetts.

THE REVOLT

In Massachusetts, the Township of Greenwich petitioned the State for relief in January 1786. Foreclosure sales of farms and land were taking place daily at one-third of true value; cattle seized by courts dred men armed with muskets and bludgeons prevented a sitting of a Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions of the Peace in North Hampton. They were led by Captain Daniel Shays, a revolutionary veteran of the battles of Bunker Hill, Ticonderoga, and Saratoga, who was now also bankrupt. At Great Barrington, another armed group closed a court and broke open jails to release debtors. Houses were searched for government agents and "enemies" driven out of town. Other mobs prevented court sittings in Middlesex, Worcester, and Berkshire counties.

In late September, Shays and his men marched into Springfield and brandished arms in front of the Supreme Court building, which had met to issue indictments. They were confronted by State Militia troops supplied arms from the national arsenal in the city. After a parley, Shays agreed to withdraw on the condition the court session adjourn. The national government in Philadelphia tried to enlist troops to aid the Massachusetts state regime - supposedly "to fight Indians" in the "West", but had no takers.

Panic seized the merchants and lawyers of the seaboard around Boston. Rumor spread of a farmer assault on the city, as was done in 1775 against the British. Governor Bowdoin, a rich merchant himself, man", then became U.S. Secretary of War in 1781, and accepted the British sword of surrender at Yorktown).

General Henry Knox of Massachusetts, who succeeded Lincoln as Secretary of War in 1783, wrote to George Washington in Virginia:

"There are twelve to fifteen thousand desperate men in New England, a threat to every man of principle and property. Their creed is that the property of the United States has been protected from the confiscation of Britain by the joint exertions of all, and therefore ought to be the common property of all... What is to afford us security against the violence of lawless men? Our government must be braced, changed or altered to secure our lives and property".

Rich slave owner Washington replied: "There are combustibles in every state which a spark might set a fire in".

Not all rebels were bankrupt farmers, but sympathizers with the plight of the common people. One observer noted that "men who were of good property and owed not a shilling" were also "involved in the train of desperadoes to suppress the courts". In December 1786, John Jay wrote: "These people do not resemble an English mob. They are more temperate, cool, and regular in their conduct - they have hitherto abstained from plunder, nor have they, that I know of, committed any outrages."

An expeditionary force from Boston under General Lincoln marched to Worcester, subduing dissidents there, then set out for Springfield in the west. The blue-blood cavalry units terrorized the "peasants" of the countryside, and small bands of rebels were dispersed.

Desperately short of guns and ammunition, Shays began to move with 1200 men, mostly unarmed, toward Springfield in late January 1787, intending to seize 7,000 muskets and 450 tons of military stores in the national arsenal. The plan was to first join with another rebel force of 1,000 men (also mostly unarmed) under Lieutenant Luke Day, and launch a joint assault. But communications broke down in the wintry countryside. Lt. Day arrived first, and lacking bivouacs and adequate supplies for his men, decided to attack alone.

On 25 January 1786, the rebel farmers - most with only pitchforks or staves - made a frontal assault on militia troops under General Shepard drawn up before the arsenal. Grapeshot and were auctioned at half-price. Taxes of the previous five years equalled the whole rental of farms. The Massachusetts legislators defeated a bill for new money issue in July 1786 and adjourned. Armed uprisings then erupted at Concord in Middlesex Co. (birthplace of the Revolution in 1775) and throughout western Massachusetts.

Townships held extra-legal meetings and county conventions to denounce the "selfishness" of the rich man's government. Then, on August 29, 1786, five hunordered the "mobs" to disperse, declared their leaders "outlaws", and placed a price on their heads. The Massachusetts government began to solicit funds from the wealthy to pay for troops to quash the rebellion. The assembled force of 4,400 included a cavalry unit of blue-blood Boston university boys. It was placed under the command of Major-General Benjamin Lincoln. (In the Revolution, Lincoln ignominiously surrendered 5000 American troops at Charleston, S.C., was released as a "gentle-

HEARTLAND ARYAN SKINS

ists, Skins, and Right-wing groups (Ed. Note: Third Way Groups) come together to spread the word for the survival of the White race world wide. There are not many problems with traitor Skins because when they are found out they are driven from their midst. I think we "American Skins" should use this example and drive the traitors from our midst. We are too strong to be destroyed by outside means, so lets not let them destroy us from the inside. Stick together and we will win. White Power!

PATRIOTISM

What good has National patriotism done for the White Race? Has it united our Folk? Has it set the White Workers free from their chains of Monopoly Capitalist oppression? Has it strengthened our chance for racial survival? No, patriotism hasn't done one of these things.

Has patriotism done anything for the White Race? Yes, it has. It has helped to con naive White Workers into fighting Monopoly Capitalist wars, which have made the race traitors richer. National patriotism is nothing more than a gimmick to fool the Aryan Worker into becoming a pawn in the rich man's war game. Every modern war fought in the West has been a rich man's war and a poor man's fight. Poor people get nothing out of war, except a free pine box.

A patriot is someone who is loyal to the Ruling Elite, whereas, a racist is someone loyal to his Race. We Racialists are blood enemies of the patriots of that type.

If the Aryan is to survive, then we must brake all loyalty to the treasonist systems and form an International Aryan Movement.

RIISING

We write with pseudonyms
About the death of White kind
While other races mastermind our destruction.

Ragnarok
Mocks

The androgenous White boys Who coyly march in liberal convoys
With renegades and parasites.

Can we rise
Out of this Pacifist bliss?

We will have to do more Than merely deride our racial suicide
But perhaps it is too early
To try to liberate our people.
It seems that we must wait,
If we wish to win,
Until we establish racial discipline.
Yet the sober fact remains:
We are ordained
To become warriors again.

SELF-INFLICTED GENOCIDE!

Throughout Aryan history our Folk have had an insane desire to kill themselves.

We Aryans, have been involved in some of the bloodiest wars in human history for some of the dumbest reasons.

We have embraced many ideas, religions, and inventions which have been destructive to our race.

The White Aryan race is the only known species of life in the universe that commits self-inflicted genocide.

We are the only species of life that has a desire to kill itself. We are the only species that commits racial suicide.

The most common form of self-inflicted genocide that our people are involved with is birth control. What other species tries to control their number? The whole point of life is to multiply. Life is a struggle between species for domination of the Earth. Species that lose the struggle to dominate become extinct. It is normal for a species to wish to survive. The dinosaurs fought a very courageous battle for survival against the mammals and lost. The mammals dominated the dinosaurs' territory and pushed them out of the picture. The dinosaurs became extinct because they couldn't compete with a superior species. The dinosaurs didn't want to become extinct; they just lost the war for survival.

The Aryan race is very different from the dinosaurs. Whereas the pre-historic reptiles fought against their extinction, the Aryan race welcomes its extinction with open arms. Some Aryans even go as far as fighting militantly for White extinction.

Planned Parenthood, Zero Population Growth, and all the other insane birth control groups are merely organizations of crazy Aryans and Aliens dedicated to the extermination of our race.

Birth control is Racial Suicide.

Any White Aryan who advocates birth control for the Folk is a race traitor. The Aryan race is in a war for survival, and all clear thinking White people should be ready and willing to fight for the survival of our race.

We, White Racial Determinists, have a right and duty to hew down the enemies of our Folk. Life is a battle, and we plan to win.

MUD INVASION

"New York Magazine" reported that there is a Hispanic Separatist Movement calling for the separation of Texas, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado and their annexation to Mexico and other Nihilist countries.

In 1983, Governor Bruce Babbitt, a member of the Council of Foreign Relations (a nihilist organization) told columnist Anne Geyer that "the Southwest is being hispanicized. The border becomes more and more a juridical figment; it is desolving in real terms. In the war of 1848 we annexed the Southwest, now the Mexicans are taking it back. We should let it happen and accept the best of it."

Mr. Larry Grathwohl, an undercover agent for law enforcement agencies in Cincinnati, became a member of the Weather Underground, a nihilist masochistic organization. He reported that he sat in conference with twenty five people, most with graduate degrees from Columbia and other well-known educational centers, planning the logistics of taking over the southwestern United States. They estimated that they would have to kill about 25 million people who could not be re-educated.

In March 1986, Governor Anaya of New Mexico declared "his state a sanctuary state" for refugees from Central America. In August 1985, New Mexico Congressman William Richardson and others submitted a bill (H.R. 3199) affecting the border. It did not pass. On February 4, 1987, the same bill was resubmitted as H.R. 1006 and entitled "The United States-Mexico Free Trade Zone and Co-Production Sphere." There is to be a joint United States-Mexican bank supervised by the Federal Reserve. In effect, it would eliminate the international border. There would be tax incentives and bank subsidies for business within the Zone. The Zone is to extend for 200 miles on each side of the border.

The face of poverty

Since 1981, AIDS has spread rapidly across America. The initial victims were all homosexuals, or bisexuals. Later victims have been drug addicts. A few of the AIDS victims have received blood transfusions from homosexuals and addicts who were infected, and a few others have been babies born to women with AIDS. A look at the races of people who have died of AIDS reveals what has long been suspected about Jews and non-Whites: it is they, not White people, who are responsible for drugs and homosexuality.

Jews comprise only 2 1/2 percent of the U. S. population, yet they account for 20 percent of all AIDS deaths. Since 90 percent of the AIDS deaths are homosexuals, it is clear that Jews are far more likely than White people to be homosexuals. The numbers prove it. The second conclusion which can be drawn is that Blacks are far more likely than Whites to be homosexuals, since Blacks make up over 38 percent of the AIDS deaths. Hispanics and Asians make up about 17 to 19 percent of the AIDS deaths, leaving only 23 percent to 25 percent of the deaths for White people. Among White people nearly half of the deaths have come from AIDS given to them in blood transfusions, from Jews, Blacks, Hispanics and other races. But it is the high numbers of Jews who have contracted AIDS which has focused media attention on AIDS, and which has been responsible for all of the "protection" for AIDS patients, and all of the special civil rights laws which force White people to be exposed to AIDS -- while "protecting" the people with AIDS from being identified.

In the U.S.A. AIDS originated and first spread among the Jewish homosexuals, who gave it to all of the Black homosexuals. Jews have always used Blacks as 'studs' or pimped Blacks around (especially to Whites) as "exotic alternatives". Blacks, of course, are only too happy to get paid to have sex-- especially with homosexual Jews who pay extra "hush-money". I suspect that Jewish homosexuality, and Black prostitution, formed the only liaison between Blacks and Jews in the United States, and that lure of cheap Black "meat" was what motivated all of the Jews to go from New York, Illinois and California to the South to promote miscegenation and race mixing during the 1960's. At any rate, all of the anti-discrimination ordinances, health-care bills, and other special measures taken to provide money for AIDS care and to hide the identities of people with AIDS are really intended to steal money from the health care system, and keep the public from finding out that Jews have played the most crucial role in spreading AIDS--which is now killing ever-increasing numbers of innocent White people.

African niggers were the first to spread AIDS, which they contracted through sex with monkeys. It is not certain whether the Jews got AIDS from homosexual acts with African niggers, or from the monkeys.

While some White people are faggots, and get AIDS from the Jews, Blacks and other queers they have sex with, many White people get AIDS from contact with contaminated artifacts, or blood, from the other races. To protect ourselves, we White people should form our own blood banks, and not allow any queers, niggers, kikes, or third world trash to contaminate

Des Clarke, one of the founders of Blood and Honour, and a member of Skrewdriver Security, and another friend of the band, Terry Clancy were recently arrested and sentenced to two years each. Their crime was to get attacked by a mob of red football supporters

The police following what must now be orders, nicked the people who look the most patriotic. (One was wearing a Skrewdriver, Gt. Britain shirt). The judge and prosecution first tried to claim that they were skinheads, despite the fact that they were rock-a-billies.

Then they were accused of what the State seems to consider the most evil of crimes, being patriots. That was it, affray was decided on over a few cocktails, and two years was the disgusting sentence.

Please drop Des and Terry a line to let them know they are not forgotten. B88583 Des Clarke, B88581 Terry Clancy. HMP Wandsworth, Heathfield Road, London SW18.

WE'RE IN HERE FOR YOU

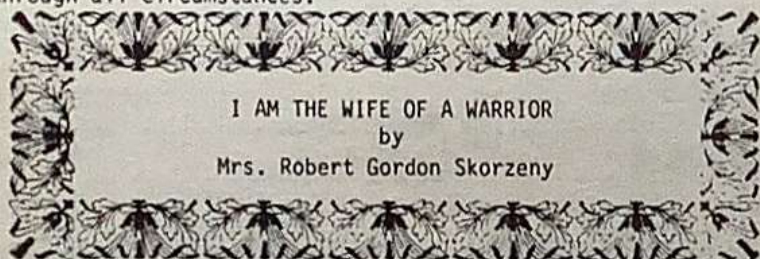

YOU'RE OUT THERE FOR US

I am the wife of a warrior. My vows to my warrior husband are as strong as fine tempered steel. My husband draws strength from me, as I draw strength from him - even from afar. I am subject to long-lonely nights of worry and tears, while my warrior-husband fights our battles.

I suffer his defeats, as I celebrate his victories. I am there with each blow that he strikes. Should he be wounded, I nurse him back to health so that he can return to the forefront of that battle. I support my warrior-husband in all ways and through all circumstances.

I AM THE WIFE OF A WARRIOR
by
Mrs. Robert Gordon Skorzeny

Should he be captured by the enemy, I stand by his side, for his wars are my wars, his wounds are my wounds, his confidence is my confidence, his captivity is my captivity. You see, my warrior-husband fights for me.

My husband and I are veterans of many battles. We have seen warriors come and go. We have known the new-young warriors and we have known the battle-wise old warriors as well. We have seen strong warriors survive and we have seen strong warriors die. We have also seen the treachery of so-called warriors that are weak. Together, my warrior-husband and I have survived through it all.

We have seen the tragedy of weak warrior-wives that have abandoned their husbands upon their capture. Their love is not my love, their duty is not my duty, their faith is not my faith, their cause is not my cause, for my duty, my love, my cause, remains unaltered and unrelenting, as well as ever-vigilant, no matter the circumstances my husband and I encounter.

I serve as an example for other warrior-wives. Therefore, my duty is strictly defined in accordance with the code of honor. The terms of honor are not for ordinary women. For ordinary women please only themselves. They are forever justifying their weaknesses, attempting to reform the laws of honor and thus serving their own ends. Not I. For I am the wife of a warrior.

My inner strength emerges during the worst of perilous crisis. Should my husband die - I vow to carry on with his struggles. My children shall know of my warrior-husband's honor. I am the wife of a warrior...

I cannot imagine being anything less.

DEDICATED TO
MRS. ROBERT MATHEWS

Rather than just serve up well deserved superlative applause for a classic film that flashes us back to the historic origins of "Glasnost", i.e. the 1968 "Prague Spring" of Alexander Dubcek in Czechoslovakia, this new movie, "The Unbearable Lightness of Being" also forces us to compare the other Jew system of Euro-Communism and makes us wonder if, in all reality, is it any worse?

There are three strong characters in this magnificent epic, which is based on the true story by Milan Kundera: a brain surgeon (Daniel Day-Lewis), his wife (Julliette Binoche), and his mistress (Lena Olin, the most magnificent and talented female import from Sweden since Ingrid Bergman).

These three protagonists, besides being involved in a sexual triangle in perhaps the most beautiful and realistic love scenes ever filmed, also work overtime to establish a homeland free from the Big Kikes in Moscow, a sort of all-Aryan "Socialism with a Humanist Face" in already totally Caucasion Czechoslovakia.

There are no race mixers or forced integrationists to deal with, only the oppression of the Red Party bosses who are still financed by Jew Wall Street. When the Czechs do revolt in the uprising and the Red Army comes crashing into the city with their armed Soviet tanks, they are no more brutal than when the Georgia Bureau of Investigation crushed the similarly motivated rebellion in Forsythe County in 1987. Later the KGB offers immunity from a show trial to the Day-Lewis character for having said, "Communists should all pluck out their eyes", if only he would sign a confession, instantly reminding us of the U.S. Injustice Department agent making a similar offer to captive White Nationalists on order of his A.D.L. masters. It seems there is less hypocrisy and duplicity in the all White Satellite nations than there is in the U.S. today with its double standard system of "Freedom of Speech".

Finally, the punishment for continued defiance, unlike the conservatives' phony nightmare of the firing squad, prisons in Siberia, or mental institutions, is an all White "Collective" farm where Day-Lewis and his wife work a few hours a day and party all night, totally free from the savage A.I.D.S. carrying apes that inhabit all of the cells in American prisons.

All things considered, this is another film that makes the multi-racial American gulag we all live in today seem more dismal than ever. Evidently in the Satellite nations there is no attempt whatsoever to mix out the founding seedline of it's people and replace them with inferior breeds. Think about that the next time the conservatives put down the Russians.

twenty eight months. The Army is a White minority to begin with and when a nigger wears a "Black is Beautiful" or "Black Power" T-shirt no one says a thing to him. "He's just proud to be Black." But when I wear a White Power T-shirt, I get into trouble and almost kicked out of the army for being a racist. When I wear my hair short and my boots, does something wrong he gets the maximum penalty. Just think, having to say "Sir" to a nigger and having to do everything that he says; isn't it sickening?

So if you want to serve our country, I personally think it's better to join WAR and serve on the home front and drive these animals out of our land.

etc. Start holding "teach-ins", seminars, and other meetings to educate the public about the Jew-Black-Homo factor. Stop and think: should you or your parents and grandparents eat dog food while homosexuals and drug addicts bleed the Social Security system dry? Should White working people be denied public health benefits because homosexuals and drug addicts are bankrupting the health care system? Should our taxes be raised to subsidize the irresponsible behavior of Black and Hispanic drug addicts or Jewish homosexuals? Finally, should our children have to grow up associating with Blacks or other third world trash who bring in drug abuse, illegitimate children and crime--or Jews who introduce homosexuality and other perversion? NO! We should all rise up and tell the homosexuals, drug addicts and other scum with AIDS to drop dead--which they will do anyway--and stop providing money, services, jobs, housing and other benefits of the welfare state to parasites.

It is the labor of White working people which has built our nation, and it is us who deserve the benefits.

our blood supply. We should also protest and demand an end to so-called civil rights laws which hide the identity of people with AIDS, while needlessly exposing us to this health menace. And finally, we should all spread the information about the Jew-factor. Our White tax dollars should go to help White people who need legitimate medical care--not be thrown down the rat-hole of AIDS treatment so that perverts, drug addicts, niggers, Jews and other scum can leech off of White working people.

This is especially important when we realize that AIDS care will cost over $10 billion annually in the 1990's. If AIDS patients are allowed to receive Social Security benefits, there will be none left for those of us who are working hard, paying into the system, when we retire. The government will just tell us "tough luck, we spent all of your benefit money treating AIDS-infected queers, niggers, Jews and drug addicts." Even more insidious is the proposal to allow public hospitals to be reimbursed for free treatment of AIDS patients. The money for these hospitals comes primarily from property taxes and local sales taxes (city or county). In a county of 1 million people, with 1000 AIDS cases, the annual tax burden imposed on each household is $100 per year--minimum. The people paying these tax dollars will get no benefit from them; the benefits all go to the homos, Jews, niggers, etc., who have AIDS. In counties around our major cities--such as New York or Los Angeles--the tax burden which White households will have to bear will be about $300 annually--JUST FOR TREATING AIDS

CASES! Clearly, the nation cannot afford to pay for the treatment of AIDS patients. It is useless anyway--AIDS is 100 percent fatal. There is no cure. But the typical patient lives about two years, and drains our health resources by over $100,000.

Clearly, the real victims of AIDS are White working people whose blood is being poisoned by Black, Jewish, Hispanic and other perverts; whose taxes are being raised to crushing levels to pay for health care which would not be necessary if these people would stop their selfish, irresponsible behavior; and whose Social Security benefits are being gobbled up by greedy Jewish and minority homosexuals.

The White working people must band together and put an end to AIDS health care. Write to your city officials, county officials, state officials,

The Official Journal Of

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC FRONT

New America is the ideological and historical journal of the National Democratic Front. It exposes the half-truths, historical lies and hypocrisies upon which the present plutocratic system is based, and it reveals and explains the eternal principles of nationalism that guide the NDF. Our wisdom is drawn from an historical analysis that follows truth wherever it may lead. History is the foundation of political wisdom and is the training ground of the true political leader. That is why we lead New America No.3 with the editorial entitled "Masters of History" and follow with these articles:

- On Nationalism Part III: Dynamic Order - Outlines the form of government America will have when the NDF comes to power.
- A Tale of Doomed Empires - Draws lessons from the Spanish conquest of Mexico and Peru.
- The Forgotten White Slaves - How Whites were brought to America in chains to provide cheap labor for the rich.
- My Debt to Robert Ardrey by Gary Gallo - The wisdom revealed by a great student of science and behavior.
- The Code of National Revolutionary Conduct

musketball was poured into the front ranks of the rebels, killing four and wounding others. The farmers routed and fled into the countryside. A large party regrouped in Berkshire Co. in the far west, where 84 insurgents were captured by a reactionary vigilante group. Learning of the defeat at Springfield, Captain Shays retreated with his own force to Petersham in the north. The State Militia under General Lincoln followed and attacked in the midst of a blizzard. Between 2-4 February 1787, the rebels were smashed and 150 prisoners taken. The blue-blood cavalry boys from Boston hunted down farmers like rabbits in the snowy fields. A final skirmish was fought at Sheffendon on 27 February 1787: two rebels were killed and 30 wounded, with two militiamen killed and several wounded. Many rebels fled into the western wilderness, but cold and hunger forced most to surrender.

Captain Shays and his aide Eli Parsons escaped into the Green Mountains of Vermont, stomping ground of partisans in the Revolutionary War. Other fugitive rebels joined them. In the Spring of 1787, fourteen rebels were sentenced to death for treason by the Massachusetts Supreme Court, including sentences in abstenformer smuggler resistor and "Liberty Boys" leader, along with Samuel Adams; British arrest warrants for their capture at Concord in 1775 sparked the American Revolution. Hancock signed the Declaration of Independence with a flourish and sat as President of the first Congress, 1775-77. At tia for fugitives. Shays began to organize guerrilla warfare from near the Quebec border.

The death sentences on the rebels caused a public outcry. John Hancock ran for governor, promising to pardon the condemned men. (Hancock was a now aging war's end he became governor of Massachusetts, but resigned in 1785 on the outbreak of troubles).

Hancock was elected, and in June 1788 signed pardons for Shays and his men, who were released from death-row or returned from the wilderness. Many depressed farmers of Massachusetts were now migrating to upper New York state, western Pennsylvania, and into Ohio. So many "Yankees" entered Ohio that it became known as "Yankeeland" to the White settlers of Kentucky and Tennessee. In 1787, the Confederated government in Philadelphia passed an "Ordinance" to sell off large lots of public land in the West. The "Ohio Associates" bought-up one and one half million acres for one million dollars - paid in debased currency taken at face value. Several Congressmen holding stock in the "Scioto Associates" took part in securing about two million acres on similar terms. Another four million acres was purchased by North Carolina speculators. Lands were then parceled and sold at high prices.

It was this kind of corruption and greed by the conservative rich which pushed poor White settlers further and further west into Indian lands, and triggered other revolts such as the "Whiskey Rebellion" of 1794 in westernmost Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia; and "Fries' Insurrection" of Pennsylvania German farmers in 1798.

It was "Shays' Rebellion" of 1786-87 which prompted "Federalist" conservatives to form the U.S. federal government and the "Constitution" of the rich in May-September 1787. (The Constitution had no "Bill of Rights", which was added later). Thomas Jefferson who wrote the Declaration of Independence in 1776, tried to stem this trend, arguing that "a little rebellion now and then" is a "medicine for the sound health of government... Like a storm in the atmosphere is an evil...productive of good...Can history produce an instance of rebellion so honestly conducted?...The motives were not wickedness.

...God forbid we should ever be twenty years without such a rebellion...What country can preserve its liberties if their rulers are not warned from time to time that their people preserve the spirit of resistance? Let them take arms! What signifies a few lives lost in a century or two? The Tree of Liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure...

And so it is to this very day.
